Our company Principal consultant David Meihls, (a C-7 quadriplegic confined to a wheelchair since 1994) began the company after working in the Architectural & Engineering fields as an ADA expert designer working very closely with architectural barrier removal and accessible design. Our professional design and construction experience along with being a member of the disabled community gives our clients assurance they are getting the very best guidance offered in ADA related issues. It is our goal and passion to educate our clients on complying with the law and making

Indiana accessible to all individuals one client at a time.
